Miranda Sings is a YouTuber, She has 5.8 million subscribers. A lot of people watch her videos. There are two kinds of people who watch her videos, people who think her videos are funny and actually appreciate them. And the people who hate her videos and are mean about it but watch them anyway, those people are annoying.

I picked Miranda Sings because i think she is funny. Whenever i'm sad she always makes me laugh. I don't know why so many people hate on her, she's just doing something that she wants to do. (Miranda Sings is really Colleen Evans.) Miranda in my opinion is one of the funniest comedy YouTubers i've ever watched.

Miranda Sings is famous because she makes random funny videos about some of the most random things you can think about. She also makes covers of songs. She purposely sings bad. It's funny to watch her music videos because they're so bad. She has done some of the most funniest things you can think about. Miranda made a book called 'Self Help', it is a really funny book. And now Miranda is going to make a movie on Netflix.

Miranda Sings helps me to laugh at not be so depressed because her videos are so funny. When i'm mad because of something i'll watch her videos and i'll try to stay mad but watching her videos make me get into a better mood. Miranda helps me by making me feel better. You might beg to differ and say that she's annoying but I think that she isn't, so please don't hate on her.

Miranda Sings can help others by making other people laugh at her videos and can make them feel better. They always make my day, so they might make other people's days. Miranda is always so bright and cheery. She is so awesome and funny. My favorite quote of her's is: HATERS BACK OFF! I like that quote because there is always going to be haters, you just have to tell them to back off and ignore them.
