

Star was an orange cat with stripes. She liked to skip in the park. One day, Star saw a flower. She stopped and smelled it. The flower smelled like honey, sweet and strong. Star smiled and said “This flower is small, but it smells like a snack!” Star snipped the flower from its stem, slipped it into her pocket, and carried it back home.

The fly loved to climb trees. He climbed them every day. His friend flamingo liked to wear bright blue gloves. One day, fly climbed up so high that he saw a plane flying by. Flamingo was happy so he clapped his blue gloves together and said “Fly, I am glad you saw a plane! Please do slide down slow!”
