LETTER FROM

Dear Readers,

I want to thank all of the people who bought my magazine and all of the people who have contributed to my magazine. I decided to write about teenagers because I am a teenager myself and I know how challenging it can be. Teen Now is a magazine that has stories ranging from a new video game to teenage drama to a new sports center opening.

Thank to everyone who has contributed to my magazine. Some of the people I would like to thank for making this issue of Teen Now such a success are Kari Hoff, Bailey Bungert, Cheyenne Dumke, Nick Ramierz, Adam Wege, Brooke Moeller, Nicole Bunnell, and Faith Coyne. Kari Hoff created a great two plus about a teenage drama. Bailey Bungert prepared a amazing article on new brand of makeup read her article for details. Cheyenne Dumke has a horse catastrophe that is great for any person that likes to read tragedy that then ends with a great lesson learned. Nick Ramirez wrote about a new sports center opening, read this article for any other details. Adam Wege wrote another great article about the new video game called The Baron Desert. Brooke Moeller created a great article about summer vacation safety which is very important so no one gets hurt. Nicole Bunnell made a report on Blake Jacobs and Aleah Swift marrying. And last but not least, Faith Coyne wrote a article on a new face wash named Miracle Face Wash, this is definitely the best face wash ever know of mankind. I use it myself.

Now I am going to tell you why I decide to write about teenagers. I decide to write about teenagers because I am one myself, and I love every minute of being a teen. I myself love being a teenager for the following reasons you have freedom to do what you want to do instead of having to worry about “What should I do with my kids I want to go to the movies”, or “I don’t want to go to work today”. Another reason I am glad to be a teenager is because I don’t get talk to like a baby, and I don’t have to worry about having to go to work. I know the day is going to come that I am not a teenager anymore and I am going to be sad but then I will get to move on and hope that I will enjoy being an adult.

Some of the disadvantages of being a teenager are having to listen to your parents and their rules, having some limits to your freedom, and having to go to school. Listening to your parents can be hard to do at times but you must do it or there are consequences. I know annoying it may seem when your parents don’t let you do what you want to but in the end it is mostly for your protection and they are just expressing how much they love you. And lastly, a lot of teenagers hate school but again in the end it is all worth it because you will hopefully get a great education, so that you can go do the jobs that you want have for the rest of your life.

Some of the advantages of being a teenager are hanging out with friends, meeting new people, and looking forward to the plans of the future. The main advantage of being a teenager are you have a lot of friends and you have a lot of time to hang out with them because most teenagers do not have a full time job. Another big advantage of being a teen is you get to meet a lot of new people along the way. Finally you get to look forward to your future.

I love being a teenager most days, some are a little rocky, but and the end of the day being a teenager is so much fun. I loved this project it was so much fun dealing with other people to make my magazine such a success instead of me doing all of the work. I hope you enjoyed my magazine and that when the next issue of Teen Now comes to a local store near you will buy. Thank you again to all the people that made my magazine such a success I really appreciate it very much.

Sincerely,

Dear Editor:

The new game "The Bearing Desert" is one of the most amazing games ever. It is obviously in my top 5 favorite games ever. I'm so happy that your magazine showed me that game and I think that this is definitely a strong point in your magazine. It is an awesome RPG (Role Playing Game) that is meant for serious gaming and a lot of free hours. I enjoyed how the campaign turned out and the main story line, it made me want to keep playing. Also I liked how long the campaign lasted, because normal campaigns are shorter than you expect, but this campaign lasted a very long time for more time to enjoy it. For some reason I don't have many friends but it's ok because it gives me much more time to play Xbox. Anyway, I hope you keep up the good work and I will trust you with a lot more of my game selections. Keep doing well!!!

Sincerely,

Jacob Biese

Dear Editor,

I would like to inform you that the energy drink, Red Zebra, is terrible! It tastes like someone put onion juice and their dirty sock sweat in it! I will never listen to any other recommendations that your magazine describes. For any other readers reading this, do not trust this magazine! It is awful! Try testing some of the stuff you recommend next time.

Sincerely,
Rabecca Wons

Teenage Drama

“Burr, it’s chilly, isn’t it?” chattered Amelia to Todd, her crush, on their way home from play practice.

“Yeah, it sure is, for a November day,” answered Todd. “So, what did you think about today’s The Tale of Cardinal Hood practice? I thought it went pretty well, with you chosen as Maid Marie.”

Blushing deeply, Amelia countered, “Not really, but you’re great at being Cardinal Hood.” A week before, Amelia’s dream had become reality; after months of making sure she was THE best for Maid Marie, along with daydreaming about Todd being the lead male role. Sophisticatedly, she had shaken his hand that day, hoping he didn’t feel the sheen of sweaty nervousness on her hand, or hear her heart beat to the happy celebration inside her.

“Umm, see you tomorrow, then,” Todd concluded mischievously, splitting onto his street, leaving Amelia there to stutter “Yeah, tomorrow,” which came out more like “uh, tome”. Cursing inwardly for her stuttering, she trudged her way home.

After practicing as Maid Marie for an hour straight, Amelia started. On page 20, the start of Act 2, words swirled. In italics it read Cardinal Hood kisses Maid Marie farewell (for now). OMG, the cast was going to start Act 2 the following day! Dancing with giddiness, Amelia crawled into bed at eight o’clock, anxious for tomorrow to arrive.

As the school day slugged by, Amelia watched the clock’s hands take their sweet time to reach 3:12. Scrambling out of her seat and racing to the stage was as close to flying as she had ever felt.

“Now, as you all know,” huffed plump Mrs. Everfield, the director. “Today is a very important day. Our lead actor and actress are Ms. Amelia as Maid Marie, and

Mr. Todd as Cardinal Hood. However, Mr. Todd was unable to attend today, and his understudy, Christopher, will fill in.” As Mrs. Everfield beamed as if this was the dandiest event ever come to pass, while Amelia felt her heart sink. Christopher, the class nerd, everyday wore thick black glasses taped together on the nose piece, cream colored and smartly ironed pants, and a plaid shirt with a pen leak preventer. Stepping forward and looking scared but determined, Christopher stood onstage, while everyone dispersed.

“You can just call me Chris, ok? Christopher is just way too formal, but my mom picked it out for... some reason, and my dad wanted to name me Anthony, but...” Christopher trailed off in midsentence and walked away, embarrassed. When he was in the wings of the stage, he pulled out a sprits bottle and squirted it into his mouth. Amelia shuddered at this, thinking I have to kiss... that? Oh Todd, why aren’t you here?

After returning home following rehearsal, Amelia used mouthwash twenty times before the taste of metallic braces came out. Angrily she stomped to her desk and snatched her phone up. Texting her best friend, Dawn, about anything she knew about Todd’s absence, she was replied with No, nobody knows where he was, except Mrs. Everfield, naturally, and believe me , I texted all 348 of our classmates. It’s like he disappeared. ~

A week later, and the night of the show, Amelia was desperate and heartbroken. The Cast scrambled around her as she stood in her medieval dress, as still as an ice sculpture, feeling just as cold. “Thirty minutes!” belted Mrs. Everfield. Christopher passed Amelia, and she was alert enough to register he wasn’t in the Cardinal Hood outfit.

“Christopher! Chris!” Amelia shouted, now active. He turned around, one eyebrow arched over his glasses.

“What?”

“You’re not wearing your costume. Why?”

“Don’t ask me, ask Mrs. Everfield, if you can flag her down.” Chris answered, rushing off.

That can only mean one thing; someone ELSE is playing Cardinal Hood, but who? Amelia wondered just before the answer to her question burst through the door.

“Todd? Is that you?” Amelia called to him.

“Pretty sure, yeah,” Todd chuckled.

Unable to help herself from the flood of anger, resentment, and relief she yelled, “Where have you been? You missed the last week of rehearsals! I thought you would never show up!”

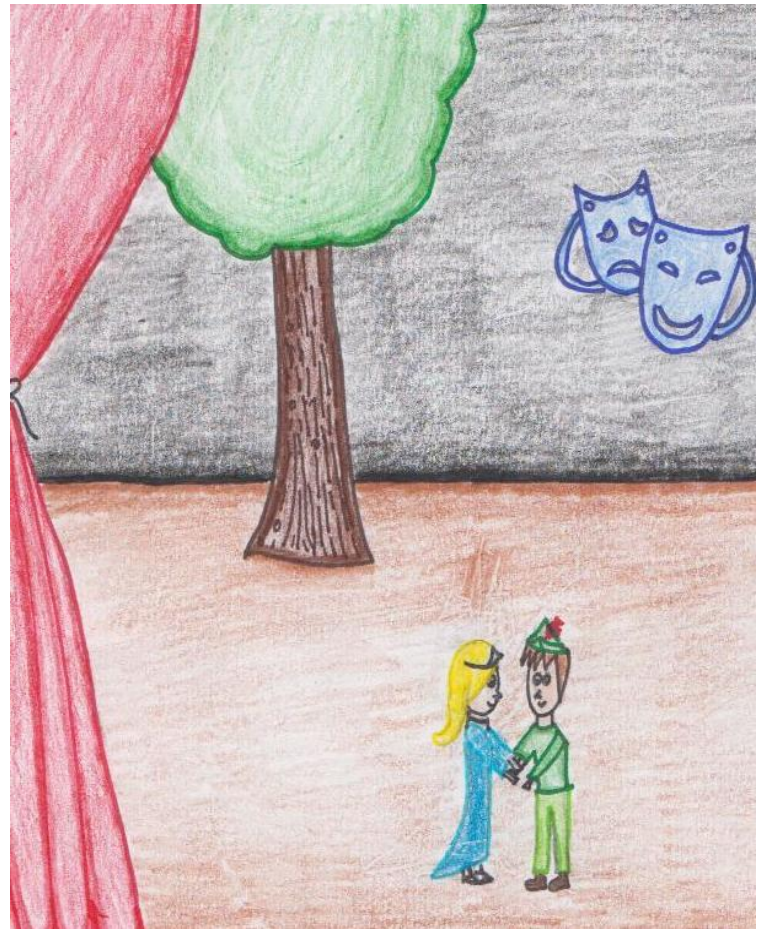

“Whoa, uh, sorry? I couldn’t come to rehearsals ‘cause my grandpa died, and I was at home comforting my mom. She was really upset and Mrs. Everfield said I could manage with just practicing on my own.” Todd said, taking a step back, looking hurt.

Feeling like an idiot, Amelia apologized, “I’m so sorry for both yelling and about your grandpa. I didn’t know, and I missed acting with you.” In her head she screamed DID I SAY THAT OUTLOUD?

Todd looked dumbstruck, and Amelia was waiting for him to run screaming. Instead he smiled and sheepishly said “I missed you, too, Amelia.” With tears in her eyes and an urge to lean forward and kiss him, Amelia jumped at Mrs. Everfield’s voice shouting “SHOWTIME! PLACES, EVERYONE.”

“See you at Act 2,” Todd disappeared with a wink. Butterflies fluttered inside Amelia’s stomach as the curtain went up and the show went on without a hitch.

It was the best kiss of Amelia’s life.♥

C.W. Makeup

By: Bailey Bungert

What is your favorite brand/type of makeup? If you have a favorite brand now wait until you see and use the new brands that just came out!

Most of the brands of makeup out now are great but once you get your hand on the new and improved mascara, eye shadow, etc. you will have every guy falling all over you. This wonderful makeup is full of helpful techniques to save your skin from sun damage, and other things that may harm your skin. C.W. Makeup comes with many different types that include; blush, mascara, eye shadow, cover up, lip gloss, lip stick, dust, and to remove every drop of it, makeup remover.

C.W. Mascara is turns your limp eye lashes into big bushy eye lashes that will grab everyone's attention. The proven technique works on any type of lashes; old or young. The amazing brand is made from 100% nylon and has a chemical mixed in to grow your lashes while it's on your eyes. The mascara comes in many different colors that include; neon pink, coal black, electric blue, forest brown and finally rainbow unicorn that are sparkly rainbow. All of the mascara is water proof and can last up to 48 hours. Everyone who knows about C.W. Makeup is enjoying the mascara because they get a lot of compliments on how their eyes look.

Another type of makeup that C.W. Makeup has is C.W. Blush; the blush comes in a variety of different colors. From a deep shade of red to the faintest pink, and for the people who like to go crazy out there is even a purple. C.W. Blush is made of 35% corn starch and the other 65% is minerals. If you are the type of person who doesn't like the powder blush, then there also is a gel that you put on your finger and rub into your skin.

Another C.W. brand is their eye shadow. The eye shadow comes in all colors of the rainbow; there is no stopping the new colors from coming out soon. C.W. Eye Shadow is waterproof, and lasts up to 24 hours. Their eye shadow turns boring eyes into bright, beautiful, and bold ones that catch people's attention quickly.

C.W. Cover up is their most popular type of makeup that they sell all together; it is great at covering up anything you want to. Like most of the cover up on the market these days, C.W. Cover up also comes in many shades for any skin color.

For the little ones that are not old enough to wear lipstick C.W. Makeup has lip gloss. This lip gloss has so many scents you can't even count all of them. C.W. Lip Gloss keep your lips soft and moist, also it stays shiny for hours. Therefore, it is very good for school pictures, just going out, and even hanging with friends. Lip gloss is very handy for any age.

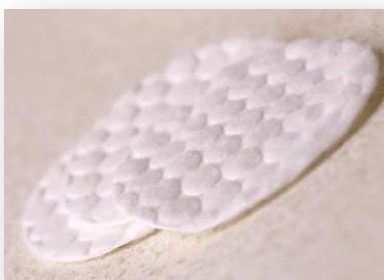

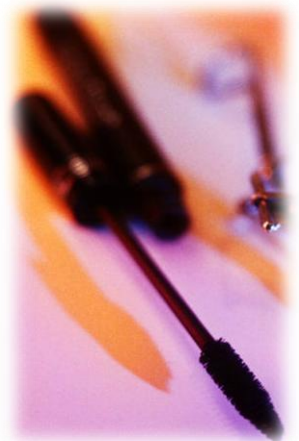

For the older girls, there is their popular lipstick called C.W. Lipstick. All of the teens, adults, and even elders love their lipstick, especially when they have so many different colors to choose from. The lip stain lasts for up to 24 hours and draws a lot of attention to you especially in a crowded room. This lipstick will make you look hot! If you really love lipstick I recommend that you buy C.W. Makeup.

Finally, to remove all of your makeup, C.W. has the best makeup remover out on the market. It is made of 100% natural ingredients and has no odd smell like some brands. Also, they have different strengths of the remover, if you wear a lot of makeup they have a strong remover which take off every drop of you heavy makeup. If you tend to wear little to almost no makeup there is a light remover which doesn't have as much of the power some people need to take off such heavy makeup. I strongly suggest that if you want a great makeup remover to use C.W. Makeup.

All of C.W. Makeup products are sold worldwide at any cosmetic store. The prices can range from $4.00 to $10.00 depending on the product you purchase. C.W. Makeup is working its hardest to create more makeup to add to its collection.

C.W. Makeup is distributed by Lovely Fresh located in California. All in all, C.W. Makeup is a very useful, helpful brand of makeup that will keep you looking beautiful even on your worst day. For any questions call 1-800-555-MAKE or contact us on our email C.W.Makeup@aol.com.

Horse Catastrophe

By: Cheyenne Dumke

The year was 2008 maybe 2009. The snow was slowly melting, fighting to stay longer. The ground was beginning to get muddy and slushy. The horses stood huddled together with their butts towards the wind trying to escape the cold. The wind was whipping against the building; causing loud bangs and cracks to occur. Ice was sliding down the roof. Meanwhile, inside the arena things appear to be normal. No one would suspect a scene from a nightmare to be happening right before their eyes. The air was suddenly pierced by a sudden bone chilling scream of terror and agony; time slows down. It doesn't feel real. Stetson and I poke our heads out the door to see Jayna lying on the ground and her horse on the other side of the arena. I asked my mother what happened, because all I seen was a flash of hair and a streak of purple. She told me Jayna's horse reared and fell over backwards with her still on.

Let's go back to the beginning of this story and I will tell it from my point of view. I was on my way to get Stetson for my 2:00 lesson. Jayna was riding her horse Luna in a hunt seat saddle. The thing about Luna though, is she doesn't like the door leading to the little barn. This is her weak point. I poked my head out of the big barn entrance and yelled "door!" for safety. It was all clear so I walked through the arena to get to the small barn entrance. Once through the door, I walked down the aisle to get Stetson's halter from his stall door. Once outside I had to go into the horse's enclosure and grab Stetson from among the circle of horses. My cheeks were pink with cold because of the wind. As Stetson and I walked back into the small barn; I stuck my head around the door and was about to yell "Door!" when I was interrupted by a loud scream of terror. There was a flash of hair and a streak of purple. I walked through the door once I determined it was safe. I took in the scene around me with a look of shock on my face. My mom told me to get Stacie while she held Stetson. My mom told me that Luna went over backwards with jayna on her. I ran up to Stacie's house and threw the door open and told Stacie that Luna went over backwards with Jayna. We both rushed out of the house and into the arena. Meanwhile, Jayna was crying; for obvious reasons, when her dad picked her up and carried her to the car to take her to the hospital.

The real miracle about this story is that jayna was only eight years old and she was on a horse that weighed 1,100 pounds and miraculously, Jayna had no broken bones, and she did not have any internal bleeding or damage. She was just a bit sore and bruised. She needed a new helmet because hers was crushed like an eggshell. One or two years later Jayna and her mom sold Luna for a horse named Sydney. I guess you could say the moral of this story is to always wear a helmet.

Weekly Horoscope

Don't be the person who doesn't return phone calls and texts on Monday. If people are counting on you, you owe it to them to respond. You have the chance to meet people and make long-lasting connections on Tuesday and Wednesday, so be sure to get all of their contact info so you don't lose touch. Thursday and Friday are good days to lay low, but Saturday and Sunday bring out your wild side. If you aren't ready to be in the spotlight, don't get on the stage!

People are counting on you to get the party started on Monday. You may not be able to break out of your shell as much as you want to on Tuesday and Wednesday, but you are very much in your element on Thursday and Friday, which allows you to meet new people and make new connections a bit more easily than usual. Money issues are at the forefront on Saturday and Sunday, and you might not have the budget for what you really want. Save some more until you can afford it.

Finish what you've already started instead of beginning something new on Monday. Tuesday and Wednesday your intellectual curiosity is annoyed, but you're going to have to do a lot more research to find the answers you're looking for. Your intuition guides you to some interesting places on Thursday and Friday, but if you aren't comfortable there, you don't have to stay. The Moon makes you more outgoing than usual on Saturday and Sunday, if that's even possible!

Monday is a good day to experience something new. Try a new food, go a different way - anything to get you out of your rut. You need to be especially careful with communication issues on Tuesday and Wednesday, so choose your words very carefully before you let them out of your mouth. Females are important in your life on Thursday and Friday, so try to spend as much time with your mom, sister, or best girlfriend as possible. Be flexible on Saturday and Sunday; your way isn't the only way.

You feel possessive of someone or something on Monday, but you aren't sure why. Your grip should loosen a little on Tuesday and Wednesday, especially if you find another emotional outlet for yourself. You're in a pretty good mood on Thursday and Friday, but that doesn't mean you can expect everyone else to feel the same way; sometimes the more you tell someone else to smile, the less they actually want to! Saturday and Sunday are creative days. Make something cool.

Becoming overly attached to people on Monday will most likely lead to heartache on Tuesday and Wednesday. You're better off playing things casually than letting yourself be vulnerable at the beginning of the week. Use your intuition to get what you want on Thursday and Friday. Trust your first instincts; they're probably right on. The Moon gives you some challenges over the weekend, especially with authority figures. Don't present yourself as an expert in Saturday and Sunday if you don't know what you're talking about.

The big picture isn't nearly as clear as the smaller ones on Monday. Pay attention to details until Thursday, when you are able to see farther into the distance than you can at the beginning of the week. The Moon brings emotional clarity on Thursday and Friday, so if you've been pondering a breakup, these are good days to make up your mind. You shouldn't expect any special treatment on Saturday and Sunday, but if you get it, enjoy every second of it!

You have a strange way of doing something on Monday, but if it works for you, ignore other people's stares and keep doing it the way you want to do it! You're better off cutting to the chase on Tuesday and Wednesday than you are trying to give a long-winded explanation of reasoning, but on Thursday and Friday, you have the creativity to make people understand even the most roundabout way of doing things. You might not feel worthy of a reward over the weekend, so it's OK to decline it.

A lesson from your past resurfaces on Monday. Doing things differently this time will probably produce the same outcome, so think hard before you waste your time. The sparks fly when you meet someone new on Tuesday or Wednesday. The first move is up to you. Someone needs your full attention sometime between Thursday and Sunday, and if you try to fake it, they'll know. Turn off your music or the TV and look directly at them so they know you're being serious about their problem.

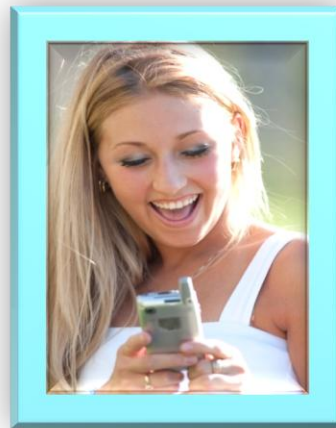

A love letter finds its way to you on Monday. You might never know who it's from, but you'll probably keep it forever. You have too much to do on Tuesday and Wednesday, but if you ask for help you should be able to get most of it done. The end of the week is an emotional time, with Thursday and Friday being days for thought and reflection. Things aren't as bad as they seem on Saturday and Sunday. Keep your chin up!

You've worked hard for what you've got, and on Monday you just don't feel like sharing. You're in a much more generous mood on Tuesday and Wednesday, but it's still important to keep track of your stuff; you don't want to lose anything of value. You'll need a good emotional outlet on Thursday and Friday, because you may have more than your share of issues bubbling up to the surface. The weekend is all about you; you're on stage, and you love the applause!

You're the most dependable one in the room on Monday, but on Tuesday and Wednesday you can let some of your attention to detail slide just a little; someone else should pick up the slack. If you're single, go ahead and take a risk on Thursday and Friday. Attached people will enjoy particularly romantic days with their partners at the end of the week! Power struggles arise on Saturday and Sunday. If there's a way to compromise, do.

Sports Center Grand Opening By: Nick Ramirez

This Saturday a new sports center will be opened to the public. This new complex located in Hill Valley, Iowa, will help teach teens how to be better athletes. Its selection of sports will vary greatly and range from football to hockey. Even some less popular sports such as rugby or lacrosse will be available to play.

The construction of this complex has been in progress for a long time, and the public are happy to see it finally come to a finish. Many local parents believe that now their teens will have less chance to be getting into trouble and more time to be learning how to play and be a good sport. The new building will provide them with opportunities to learn communications skills, good sportsmanship, and the rules of the game. Kids are also very excited to see the new building is opening this weekend. They believe it will provide them with an opportunity to try new sports they have never been exposed to.

So who is behind the construction of this complex? The Teens Athletic Association (TAA) is. They believe that this new building will provide teens and children alike with the chance to be a great athlete. Scott Turner, the lead director of the program has stated that children and teens of all ages are welcome to come in and try a sport. "We want kids to learn that playing videogames or watching TV isn't the only way they can have fun. We want them to try things they've never done before, play sports they've never even heard of. When you hear a kid ask "What's rugby?" and see him playing it the next day, you can't help but smile."

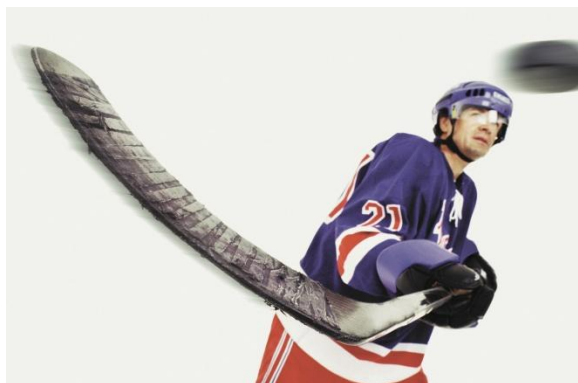

You might be wondering what sports will be available to play. According to Turner baseball, football, soccer, volleyball, hockey, basketball, rugby, and lacrosse will all be available to play. Each sport will have a league in which anybody can join. Professionals from each sport have been hired to coach and help the teams. Several programs will be held for each sport where kids can improve their skills. "We want kids to not only work on their skills during games, but also outside of playing time. That is why we have provided several programs to help improve kids' skills."

In order to fit all these sports into one complex, it had to be large. In order to build a large complex it takes money. In fact, the amount of money spent on the construction totals to about 2.5 million dollars. In an interview Turner stated, "Sure it's a lot of money, but it's worth it. We needed a large area to fit all the playing fields and courts. It took a lot of time, but we wanted kids to have a variety of choices. We didn't want to tell them they could only play one sport."

Organizations and celebrities from all over the world are praising TAA for their efforts to help change the community of Hill Valley's children's lives. "I think it's great what TAA is doing. They providing those kids with a chance I never had. They can play whatever sport they want. What's greater than that?" stated professional football player Will Breilmaier. When asking pop star Justin Beaver what his thoughts were on the TAA he state, "Sports allow you to express yourself just like music. When I was younger I didn't play much sports, but I saw how much it meant to the other kids. Giving the chance to get involved in sports is a great thing to do." Even the president George Kennedy stated "We need more groups like the TAA. They are providing great learning opportunities and a chance to have fun to our children. They are teaching our children, our future, how to get along. That's something this world definitely needs."

The TAA has been stunned by the publicity it has gained. They have received funding from several celebrities and now have the money to build more sports centers throughout the USA. George Kennedy has even agreed to attend the grand opening. Turner says, "Sports mean a lot to a kid and can even change their lives. We hope to do just that."

The Baron Desert Game

By: Adam Wege

This new game, The Baron Desert was created by Hammer Games. Hammer Games really stepped it up this time in The Baron Desert. This game has great graphics, real-life situations, and life-like creatures. This is an RPG (Role Playing Game) which means that you will play the part of a specific character. In The Baron Desert, you play the role of an Australian man named Kabar. His mission is to find and destroy the baron, a secret tomb located 3,000 feet underneath the surface of the Baron Desert. Time after time you will try and find it, but it will take a while since there is no specific location of where it is exactly.

The reason that Kabar wants to destroy the tomb is because a long long long time ago, Kabar's long lost great grandfather was tortured and burned to death by Isazer, the man in the tomb for no reason, just to please himself. Now it is time for Kabar to get his revenge on Isazer, he will blow up the tomb.

The thing that most players like most about this game is that it has a very long campaign. This allows the player to really understand what is going on in the game. There are over 100 different missions that you have to complete. Most of those levels take about 30 minutes each to complete.

Critics say that this is the best game of the year and possibly of all time. "This is definitely a 5 star game." Says Jake, head of the game community.

On the first day of The Baron Desert's opening, it made over $20,000,000! That's more than two times the amount ever made by any game in history! If you're a gamer, you really have to get this game. You'll love it.

Summer Vacation Safety

By: Brooke Moeller

With summer just around the corner teens are bursting with excitement to get out of school and head to the parties. We all know how the teenage brain works; boyfriends/girlfriends, parties, road trips, spending money, and living life with no regrets. But when it comes to decision making some teens don't know their boundaries. Summer is an exciting time for teens because they feel free, out of school, and they can stay up late. Some think "Hey you only live once so do what you want!" but their wrong. Yeah of course you only live once, but make the RIGHT choices. You can have fun at parties without drinking or doing bad things so here are some great ideas you may like to try!

Summer parties at the beach or even just a game of volleyball can be fun. Getting together with some friends and heading to there is a safe way to relax and enjoy your day! With swimming, playing sports and just having a good time, a beach is the perfect place to go. Girls love sun tanning as well, so being at the beach and just listening to music can be relaxing. Summer is an exciting time and should be enjoyed by all, but safely so everyone can have fun.

With the advantage of driving, a simple road trip could do the trick! Packing up the car and traveling to a town near by you've never really had the time to look at could be a possibility. Driving through the country or just anywhere is a great time for sightseeing. Teens never really look at the surroundings around them therefore a road trip is the perfect advantage to do so. A trip is also a great time for bonding, sometimes you don't really get the time to talk one on one with your friends so this opportunity is great. Spending time with your friends is absolutely great for anyone, you need to have your friends there no matter what because without them life is boring and your summer would be boring as well.

Spending time with your family can always be fun! Going to Disney World, a water park or simply anywhere can make your summer rock. When teens get older they usually cut down on socializing with their family members because it's "not cool" to hang with their parents. But what they don't realize is that parents love spending time with their children so a family vacation would most likely make it a great experience and great bonding time. Before you know it you will be off to college and you won't have that opportunity to spend quality time with your family. You'll get home sick and realize how precious that time is. Teens need to understand that your parents do love you and want you be safe, so family vacations are the right way to spend our summer!

With all the sports in the summer why not go to a game with a group of friends!? Baseball is a great sport to go watch and have a blast with your friends. Even just your school sports are a great place to go have fun and enjoy your evening, plus your showing your showing your support! So sporting events are an awesome way to have fun, be safe, and get a great tan!

So now that you have some great ideas for your summer start planning and get a group of friends together and let the countdown for summer begin!!!

New Face Wash

By: Faith Coyne

Hey teens, do you have annoying acne? Are those pesky pimples popping up when you least expect it? Do you have troubles getting rid of your acne? Well, we have the perfect solution for you!

Miracle Face Wash is here! Miracles can happen with Miracle Face wash. This face wash has helped millions of people with their acne problems. Forget using your old face wash try Miracle Face Wash and get rid of those pesky pimples or that annoying acne.

Now you're probably wondering how it works. Well, this face wash doesn't clog your pores like other face wash does, that doesn't help your acne it just makes it worse. Miracle Face Wash gets deep down into the pores and cleans out all the bacteria and dirt. Then the face wash does its magic, after it's done cleaning it smooths out the skin leaving skin feeling soft and refreshed. Miracle also helps get rid of black heads and prevents future pimples!

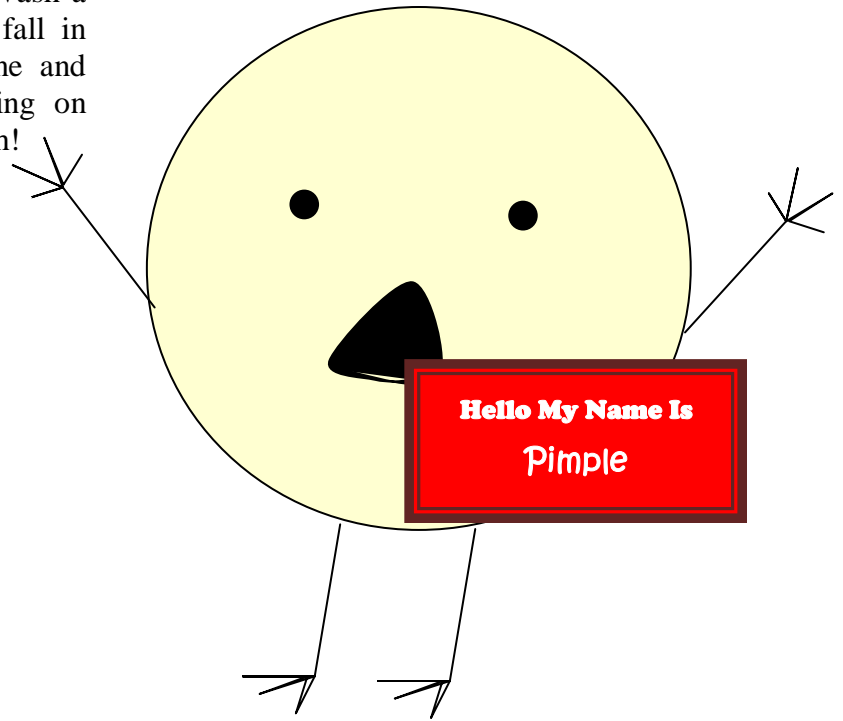

Miracle Face Wash is being used by teens all over the country! Teens commented at our survey and said things like "Miracle Face Wash is the best face wash ever made, they are not like other brands that advertise about their product that doesn't even work, Miracle really does work!" and others are saying "So worth my money, they are the best and ONLY face wash for me." But there was one girl in particular that we really appreciated for her comment which was "Thank you so much Miracle Face Wash Team! I was so worried about my acne and pimples that it caused even more pimples! I tried literally every face wash on earth! When my friends told me about this new face wash that came out, I thought oh great another face wash that won't work for me. Then my mom bought me some and she told me to try it because girls at her work were using it and it really did work. I thought ok I might as well just try it, it won't kill me. So, the next day I could already see my acne and pimples clearing up. I was jumping all around with excitement that my acne was finally clearing up! So, thank you so much Miracle Face Wash Team, you really helped me out with my biggest problem. I will never use any other face wash or ever try another face wash, Thanks!"

Miracle has helped save millions of teens with their problems, so we want to help you out. How to properly use Miracle Face Wash is apply only to wet face and scrub real hard to make sure you get to the pores. Then let Miracle do its magic for at least one minute then rinse with warm water. Your face should feel fresh and smooth, if not try another washing! You should use Miracle Face Wash every night if you want good results on your acne, pimples, or black heads.
