Letter from the Editor

Dear Readers,

It has been a blast to write and edit Fashion Magazine Incroyable. It has had its ups and downs at times writing and editing this magazine. All together, this magazine seems to have been a big hit!

I wrote this magazine to inform readers about what is happening in the fashion world. I love fashion and all the people involved in fashion. I would always want everyone to be fashion forward.

While writing some of this magazine, my laptop shut down in the middle of making my cover! So I had to redo the whole thing! That was an absolute nightmare! After I was done redoing my cover, without any warning my original cover had popped up! I was so happy, because my original cover had stuff on it that wasn't on my new one. Hopefully I never have to worry about something like that ever happening to me again.

A fun thing I had gotten to do with this magazine is that when I was selling some of my ads, people would say that I had done a really good job! I had also realized that the people I thought weren't really good at drawing, have amazing creative skills! There are some amazing writers in my class that I had not known about! Their skills are absolutely fantastic! I wish I had known they were that well of a writer earlier on in the year, I was having a serious case of writers block they could have helped me with.

I believe that the Deadline project was truly stressful, and that I was truly confused through half of the project. I tried my best, and of course, that seemed to work. I worked my hardest on everything I sold. I tried to help others do their best too. Sooner or later everyone was happy that their magazine was coming together very smoothly. I was pleased that, mine as well, was a magazine that had become very professional looking.

When I was checking in my buys and sells for this magazine, I realized someone had never paid me! It was a real pain! I had to track that person down and make her pay me. I suggest to double check your financial records when you buy something from someone.

In my eyes I believe that my magazine is wonderful and couldn't have been any better! I help the not so fashionable become fashion forward! I love to see my ideal look become somebody's unique style! I hope everyone who reads this magazine understands how much fashion means to some people, and how much it would change their lives if they would pursue it.

My favorite part of this magazine is the advertisements! Look at all the wonderful creations! I didn't know so many people had creative skills! I'm proud of many of my classmates. I hope my classmates realize how well they right and how well they project themselves when they bring a wonderful product to me on time!

Another one of my favorite parts to writing this magazine is that I get to see what others think about fashion and what they believe it should be. I believe that several of the people in my grade that I encountered were at first skeptical about writing a fashion article for me because they didn't know what to do. After they let those skepticisms aside and put their best foot forward, they would come up with some absolutely amazing articles!

Girls and guys around the globe are in need of some fashion advice. That is the reason why I am here. I have been officially fed up with seeing guys and girls wearing socks with sandals, plaid with stripes... It's just not appropriate attire! If you want to get a person spooked, sure you can wear that in public than. Do not wear polka dots with zebra print if you are going to wear it throughout the school day! What are you, insane?

I have been interested in fashion for numerous years. I believe even if a girl thinks themselves to be a tomboy they can still let their true beauty shine through! Everyone has a little bit of sparkle in them, so why not let it glow? I hope everyone will let their true selves come through after looking through this magazine.

Sincerely,

Rebecca Wons

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

The nail polish I saw in your magazine was very good nail polish. Many advertisements say that their polish dries fast, but it doesn't. This nail polish is fantastic it stayed on for almost two weeks. They have a variety of colors. The nail polish only comes off with one hundred percent pure acetone. I will keep buying the items you recommend because most of the items I have bought work very well. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Abby Silvis

Dear Editor:

I would like to thank you for recommending that fabulous smelling perfume, Secret Garden, in last month's issue. My boyfriend can't stay away from me because I smell so good! I have nothing but good things to say about your new line of perfume. I think that every that wants to smell good should but Secret Garden Perfume!

Sincerely,

Gabby McKeever

Mullingar, Ireland

Dear Editor:

I am writing to complain about how horrible your recommendations from your magazine are! In your last issue you recommended a new brand of face cleansers called 'Simply Magnifique', you had said that it helped reduce breakouts and left your skin feeling fresh and renewed. When I purchased this face cleanser to try it I found that it did anything but that! It only made my face become irritated and swollen, and once I finally got that to go away it caused my face to break out like crazy. I am done taking advice from your magazine and will no longer be reading them. My advice to you would be next time before you recommend something to try it out for yourself!

Sincerely,

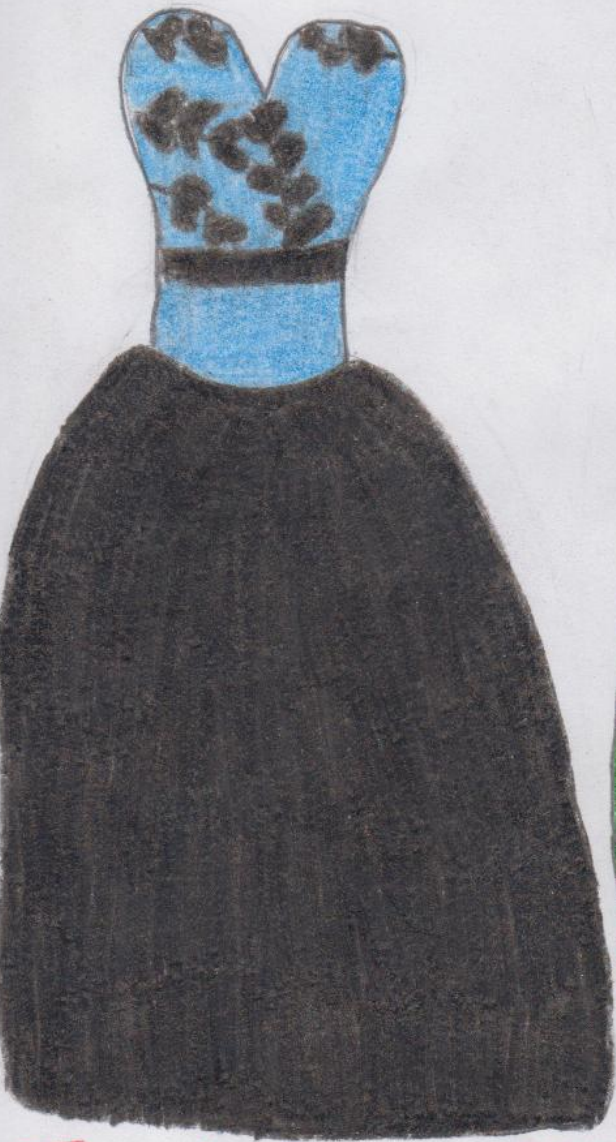

Claudia Wunderlich

Kyra Banks Ends Her Modeling Career?

By: Alexis Manley

I'm sure the whole world has once heard of Kyra Banks. If you haven't, then it's time to crawl out from underneath that rock. Kyra is a major model; she is also a host and judge on the famous show, the world's new Top Model. Kyra is known around the globe for her famous modeling skills. The big question is, is Kyra retiring from modeling?

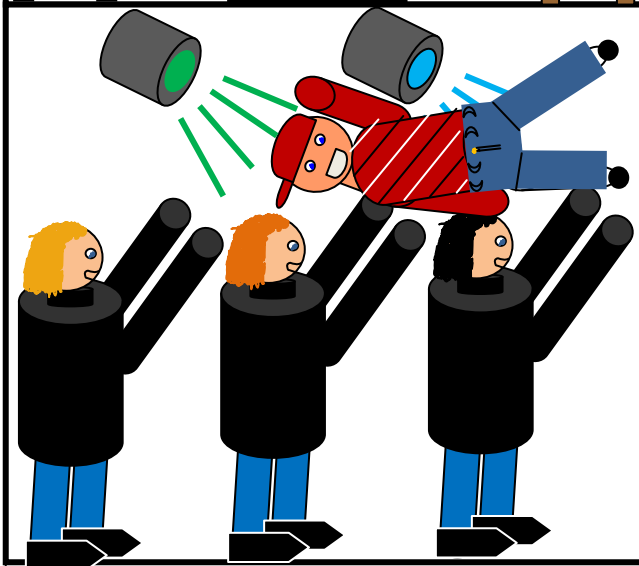

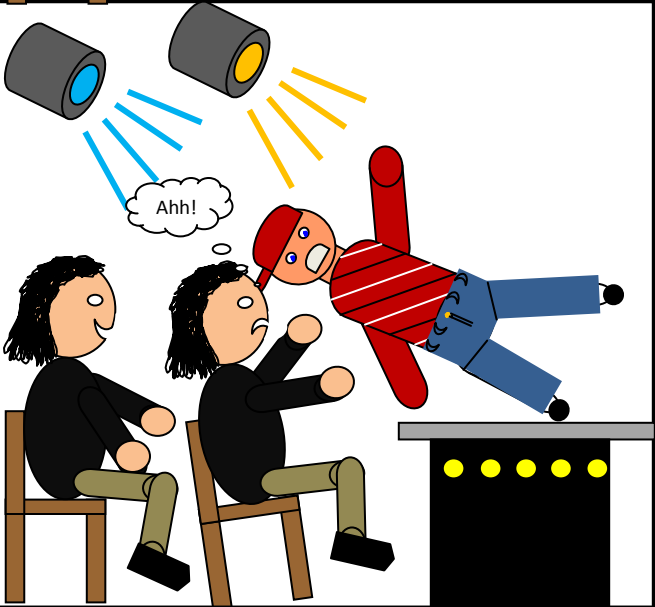

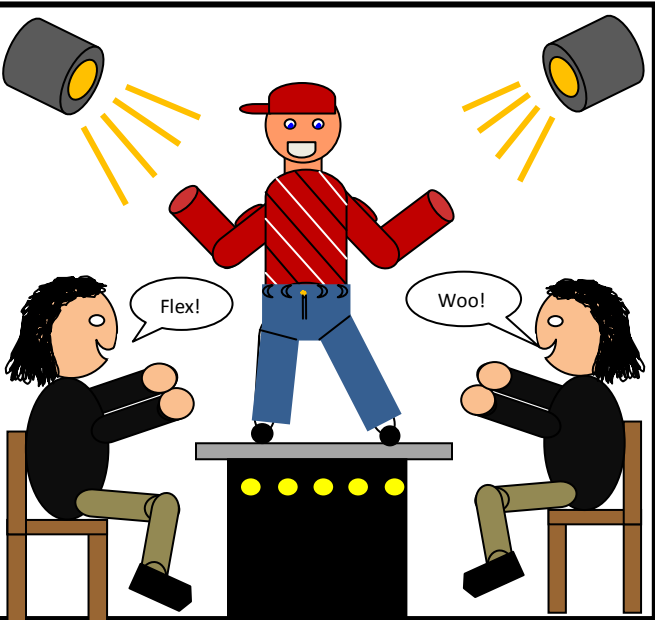

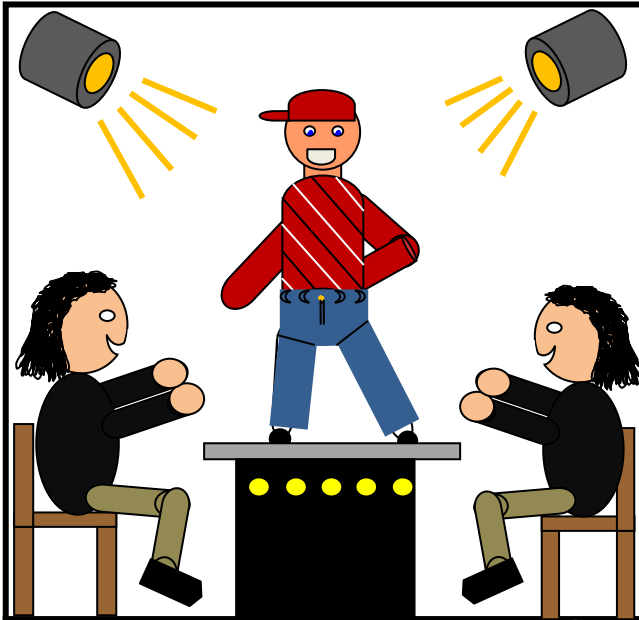

Rumor has it that the gorgeous model is ending her career. Sources say that Kyra quit because the photographers wanted her to shave her head completely bald for a photo shoot. Kyra was horrified by this idea and stormed out of the studio. "I quit! I would never shave my beautiful hair off! Never in a million years!" Kyra chanted as she stormed out of her photo shoot.

I'm sure we would all hate to see Kyra end her modeling career. Let's hope she comes back. Kyra shouldn't have quit over one photo shoot. But from the looks of it she didn't find the idea of shaving her head a good plan at all. Kyra has been overwhelmed by the whole fix up. "The photographers asked me to shave my head completely bald. That is insane. I love modeling, but I think this is a sign that I need to retire from modeling. I'm sorry to all my fans but I refuse to take another modeling job after this." Kyra explained to one of our reporters.

Is Kyra over reacting to just a simple request? Jon Pepe, one of the photographers who brought up the idea, exclaimed "We just simply asked Kyra if she would shave her hair for one of our photo shoots. We didn't mean to offend her in any way. We are greatly sorry that Kyra is now quitting. We photographers don't understand what set Kyra off and made her so mad. We hope that she can forgive us and move on and continue her career as a model."

Agreed, Kyra may have over reacted. The question is, will Kyra ever return after what happened back at that photo shoot? The world hopes the answer is yes. It would be such a shame to see a model of such beauty and talent to end her career oh so soon.

Break-Up

By: Anna Valeri

Oh! I'm so sad! Practically everyone should be depressed because of what happened. Did you hear? Do you know what happened? I'm sorry. I'm getting ahead of myself. Angela Stains (one of the famous movie stars from "Ladies in Black" and a couple other films) and Johnny Tropaz (one of the most beloved country singer that wrote many songs like "Stains of Love") broke up. It's an upsetting occasion. More like a depressing occasion actually. If you're laughing, don't be. It's not funny at all. It's sad. You're weird if you do think it's funny. Just strangely weird, mhm-mhm.

Anyway, it's crazy, totally crazy. Those two, Angela Stains and Johnny Tropaz, are the cutest couple ever! It's hard to believe though. They walked on the beach together, had picnics in parks, went on bike rides through town, and practically all those romantic stuff with each other. They do everything together with each other. Even watch the football games too. It's so romantic. Well, WAS.

Johnny is so romantic. You can tell at all the stuff he does for Angela. He even had made Angela a song about her and she loved it. The song is "Stains of Love". Everyone also loved it. Yeah, you remember the public? Right here, the public has their own opinions too. Well, we are talking about them and it's what we've been talking about for a while so, never mind, let's carry on.

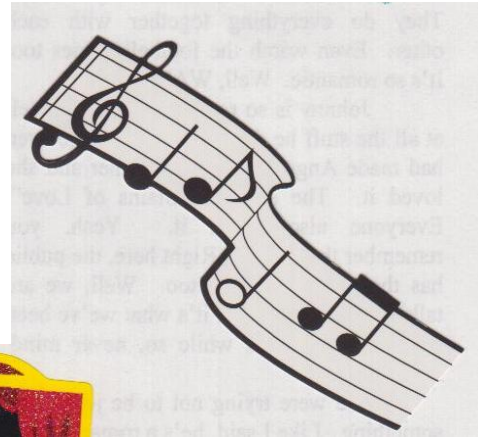

We were trying not to be jealous or something. Like I said, he's a romantic guy. That WAS romantic to Angela. What happens now? Do we just wait for a new cute couple to come popping up out of the blue and just forget about Angela and Johnny? See if they're better in romance and love? Of course not! Never! Not in a life time! No other couple can overcome those two love birds.

Do you remember a couple months ago? Johnny asked Angela for her hand in marriage? It WAS romantic. Let me refresh your memory. They went to Paris, the City of Love. Johnny organized the WHOLE thing. He's a master at it, being romantic, F.Y.I. He can just have a girl's heart on a platter for breakfast. He's good, really good. Anyway, he had a special AND private dinner on top of the Eifel Tower. He hired the best chef, and the best service. Got the best table/tableware AND ring. After they ate, they took a stroll in the moonlight. It would be any girl's dream to get asked on a night like that. He went on one knee, asks her, and she said yes, of course. He's so romantic. I swear hearts are floating over every girl's head over him for doing that for Angela, wishing that it was them instead of her. They were supposed to get married in August. But, who know knows why they broke up. Maybe they didn't have that spark anymore. Maybe they had a big fight and announced that the relationship would no longer go on. Maybe one of them weren't ready to get married. That it was going too fast. Or maybe it was us, the public. Maybe we put too much pressure on the couple. Like I said, who knows?

As you all know, the fans are out of control. F.Y.I, they call themselves 'Trains'. You know, Stains and Tropaz together is Trains. Huh? Never mind, you laughed earlier...weirdo. They are having a protest about the two famous couple. Holding up signs about how they were meant to be together, that they're soul mates. They are meant for each other. They form into groups and go outside their studios and their homes. It's COMPLETELY chaos. Security and cops have to bring the couple to AND from work/ home. That's how serious it is. There was even a gunshot that went off because of the break-up. No one knows what happened though. It was either a crazy fan was going to kill one of them or that they are crazier and would shoot them self. Who knows? It's the present and people do weird things that are just weird/crazy. People these days, crazy or weird? Depends on what they do. I mean people like the ones protesting. So that's what's going on in the world.

Make your own Boots:

Materials:

- ✂ Leather
- ✂ Strong string/ Glue
- ✂ Soft fabrics
- ✂ Sole Padding
- ✂ Moldable rubber
- ✂ Rubber mold palate

1. When making boots or other fashionable shoes it is smart to first make a 3D sketch of your shoe.
2. Starting at the bottom you should first heat your rubber and let it cool in your rubber palette away from sunlight and away from curious people.
3. Once your rubber soles have been fully molded and take out of the molds you should find the sold padding.
4. You then should either glue down or sow with strong string your padding to the rubber of your shoe
5. Finding your leather and soft fabrics create the length and top of your boots. The soft fabrics should be sown into the inside of the boots and the leather the outside.
6. Now show off in your fabulous boots.

The Last Moments of Laurie Jansen

By: Andrew Yang

Cancer is one of the most famous diseases that take the lives of many. It can end the life of your loved ones in an instant or it can torture them and until the final second. One person that we all know who is affected by a deadly form of cancer is supermodel, Laurie Jansen.

At a recent photo-shoot the photographer, James Roberts, spotted a growth on the model's neck. Laurie got really concerned and went to have doctors check it out right away. After she received the results of her appointment it was said that she had skin cancer.

The doctor told Laurie that she only had three months to live. With this new found news Laurie decided to live the rest of her life to the fullest. She took as many photos as possible and on her free time she tried things she always wanted to. She went skydiving, bungee jumping, and rode on elephants.

Towards the end of Laurie's life she recorded a video of herself to inspire people to enjoy life. This is what she said, "Live life to the fullest, cherish it. Don't waste the little time you have second-guessing and regretting yourself just enjoy every last second of life, before it's too late."

Two hours after the video went viral Laurie passed away. She will always be remembered as not the beautiful and famous supermodel, but the women who never gave up on life. Her determined attitude was what kept her going the last month of her life. Living it to the fullest and never wasting a drop of it. She lived every single second of it, right up until the end.

To this day people are still watching Laurie's famous video. Viewers of the video stated that it was very inspirational. Some also said that it helped them out of a depression and showed the door to a better life.
