

Addy the Greatest Dancer

Have you ever heard folks talk about Addy the greatest dancer? It's true Addy was the greatest dancer. Let me tell you all about it. In the beginning

Addy was doing heel stretches, cartwheels, splits, and leaps. It was hard to get Addy to sit still for five minutes. By the time Addy was ten she was as flexible as an adult dancer. One day when Addy was dancing in the yard when a girl came up to her. She said, "Let's have a dance off." Now as you know Addy loved dancing and simply agreed. The other girl said "California here we come." Addy suddenly gasped. Addy wouldn't... she couldn't... Addy lived in Orlando, Florida. To get from Orlando, Florida to San Francisco California was a five hour and fifty-four-minute plane ride. Addy couldn't sit still for five minutes. How could Addy ever get to California? Once Addy had to sit still for a three-hour movie. She was up all-night dancing.

Another time Addy tried to sit still for fireworks she watched five fireworks bam, pow(break), boom, pow, bam before she started dancing. Now if Addy were to use up all her energy maybe just maybe Addy could get to California. Addy booked a flight and started wasting her energy. Two days later Addy's flight boarded. Addy felt more tired than she felt ever. Addy slept during the plane ride. Addy's flight was landing when she woke up. Addy had so much energy she ran to the dance off spot and started dancing. Addy danced for so long she easily won. Addy did many other things before she disappeared. Some people say Addy is still in California. Some people say she is wandering around. Folks say if you ever look up in the Northern lights you can still see Addy doing dance routines.

By: Addy