

The Best Wrestler Ever

Have you ever heard of the best wrestler named Grant? He was born with the skill of wrestling. As he grows up he could beat anyone.

One day his team had to face the best team in the world. Grant thought they would be easy to beat. They were not easy to beat.

BOOM! BAM! PIN! Now it was 12 to 0, Hortonville was losing. Then Grant thought he shouldn't have said that. Grant was up there being only one more seconds left in the period. It was the third quarter.

They were timed 12 to 12. Boom!
Grant had got him on his back. He got 3 back points. The crowd was cheering and clapping. Now the team score was 12 to 58.

Hortonville had won against Oshkosh. Grant knew he was the best on the team. The next day they had to beat the team as good as them. After that Grant did not show up. That was the last anyone ever saw him. The team did not know what to do. "What should we do?" said the coach. "Just start the game," the people said. But some people say they can still hear his footsteps on the mat.
