

Helping Hands Around the World

Have you ever heard of Kate Travel, a worldwide traveler and helper? Folks say that Kate was the most helpful traveler ever. This is how the story goes. One day, a baby was born. Her name... Kaitlyn. The first second she was born, she was interested in exploring. Kaitlyn became known as Kate Travel. So, one crisp morning, Kate packed her bags and caught a flight to Paris, France. Kate was only eighteen and just graduated but was excited for the adventure. "Good Bye!" said Kate. "Good Bye!" said her parents. One day, in London, England, Kate found a dog. She was a golden retriever. Kate decided to keep her and name her Bella

Rose. "She's sooo cute!" said Kate. As time passed, she traveled and explored many places, including all fifty states, some more than once. One day she reached the town of Rail Roe. All the people were coughing and sneezing.

"ACHOO ACHOO!" They were miserable. Kate decided to form a team, The Travel Helping Team. She was the leader with the help of Bella. So, the team started to help the people of Rail Roe. Finally, on a cold morning, they came up with a cure. Even though it was as cold as ice, the team gave them the medicine, made hot soup, and gave them all their extra blankets. They said, "Thank you!" Then the team left. For years the team traveled around the world in their private jet helping people with whatever they needed. Kate became known for her helping traveling heart. Kate, her team, and Bella disappeared in the Northern Lights. Some folks say if you look closely, you can see them in the Northern Lights.
