Minecraft Now

Video games are great and there's a variety of controllers and games. My favorite game is for the computer, iPod, iPad, and other devices it's Minecraft. Most people like it and there are different things to do on it but the most common thing to do is survive on the worlds and get achievements.

I like to be in creative mode because I can do things I want to without being killed or running out of materials.

There are servers that you can go on and play the games or help build it. On your own world you can build, survive, and play hardcore mode.

Hardcore mode is when you have one chance to survive as long as you can without completely losing your health and once you die you have to delete the world and start a new one.

In survival mode you can die and respawn where your spawn point is or where you last slept in a bed.

There are different animals in Minecraft like pigs, cows, chickens, sheep, and squids are not hostile animals. Some hostile mobs are creeper, zombie, blaze, ghast, ender dragon, skeleton, nether skeleton, and wither are the hostile animals that will kill you on sight. There's the zombie pigman which if you hit them all of them around you will come after you and try to kill you. The enderman will not kill you unless you look it in its eyes or attack it.

The one creature that you probably want to kill is the ender dragon because it's the ultimate boss and it is in another dimension called the end and to get to it you have to find a stronghold and activate the portal to the end. When you get to the end you'll immediately be confronted by enderman and then comes the ender dragon that you can defeat with arrows and once you kill it a portal home will appear and the ender dragon egg will be on top of it. When you go through the portal you will get things saying stuff that is boring to read but it means you beat the game on that world. But no worry you can still play on that world and not worry about the end any longer. But you can still go to the nether or the end over and over again. You can face the Wither over and over again. The wither is the nether boss.

Call of Duty: Ghosts

This is a story about two brothers named Hesh and Logan. They are 16 and 18 years old and living happy lives. A US satellite called Odin was attacked by the Federation of South America. Odin was filled with large kinetic rods. Odin exploded and got caught in the earth's atmosphere getting sucked in by earth's gravity. Odin came crashing down on the US. The devastation was possibly worse than nukes. The nation we loved was nearly destroyed. Within a blink the US became a weak country. The Federation attacked the US focusing their invasion in the south. The Federation captured civilians and executed them.

The US created a unit called GHOST to defend the US. Their main skill was stealth. Hesh and Logan wanted to defend their country and applied for GHOST. Also their father was an ex-marine and they wanted to follow in his footsteps.

The Federation had two major

The US wanted to block the roads and highways from Dodge City, Kansas to Edinburg, Texas.

Blocking the roads would cause supplies to stop getting from base to base.

Their first mission was to clear out and take over Dodge City, Kansas. From Dodge City they took highway 50 to highway 35, putting a soldier every 20 yards. By the time they reached Oklahoma City they were running out of soldiers. They called in air support to deliver soldiers. They finally reached San Antonio where they found a mega base.

Thick steel walls with barb wire on top surrounded the entire base. They waited for a cargo shipment to arrive. The gates opened and the ghosts slipped in. The ghosts took over the base and found nukes. They threatened the Federation, to leave or be blown up. The Federation gave up and went home..

The newest Apple device is called the iMac Air laptop or the iPad Air. These are the newest and light devices there are. For Apple devices and improvement in all of the products they have come out with in their business. Here are a couple of great things about the iPad Air and the iMac air laptop. The iPad Air is almost a quarter lighter than the iPad 2. The iMac Air laptop is half the weight of the iMac laptop. There is the iPhone 5 SC and the iPhone 5 cs. These are the biggest screens on Apple phones. I personally think the iMac laptop is the handiest thing for laptop there is out there. It is small and it is like an iPad, but with a keyboard.

Then there is the iMac it has the biggest screen for a desktop. It is all built behind the screen, so it is two pieces the screen and the keyboard. The keyboard is cordless and there is only a couple of cords. I think that the iMac is the most versatile desktop there is on the market. There are so many more things that you can do with a computer.

Some of the things that Apple has brought out is some of the games they have made are really fun and are a big hit for kids that are under 14 years of age. They are easy to figure out, have great cameras, and are good for young kids to work on. They can take one game and bring it to another device, and you can still be at the same level on all of the devices. They are great for watching movies on and you can also face time people. It is like a piece of cake for anyone that is trying it out. You can also take your iPad or laptop and put more gigabytes in it. You can download websites and other things. The prices are reasonable for how good they work. You can set up timers and stopwatches on them. Then they send out new updates for your iPad hard drive. Apple devices are just all around best electronic I have use. So if I were you I would go out and buy the iPad air the iMac air laptop. The best part about Apple products is that whatever they make will last the use that you will give it. Like dropping it and siting on it or kick it will last the use you put on it.

By next year there is going to be the iPhone 6 coming out. It will be faster than the iPhone 5 CS and the iPhone 5 SC it will be one of the fastest phones out there on the market. But the screen will be a little bite bigger. But it will have a faster internet. They are just the all-around best iPhone on the market. They can all so put in for you to have to hold more pictures. They hold a lot of space for how small they are. But the screen is just amazing. It is one of the most diverse phone Apple has on the market

Halo Reach

In Halo Reach the time of this was before the first Halo but was one of the late games made. But basically in this game you are a new Spartan and part of Noble Team and your job is to defeat the covenant and save Reach. Once the covenant first invaded Reach ONI basically declared the command of the UNSC(United Nations Space Command)to order all the Spartans to go and fight and try to save Reach but since the Covenant had more forces they overran the Spartans and defeated them one by one. All Spartans were eliminated except for Spartan 117 John A.K.A Master Chief. They shipped Master Chief on the Pillar of Autumn before the covenant can stop them. Every Spartan fought till they were at their end of their energy they never gave up and they never ever thought they were going to lose. They tried as hard as they can for as long as they can. In the first mission of Halo Reach the UNSC sent Noble Team to investigate a death. That is when they figured out that the Covenant was on Reach. That is why they called for all the Spartans so they wont lose reach. Noble team had six memebers. Noble one was Carter the Leader. Noble two was Kat the second in command. Noble three was Jun the Sharpshooter. Noble four was Emile the Close Quarters Combat Specialist. Noble five was Jorge the Heavy Weapons Specialist. And you were Noble Six the Rookie. In Reach you go on missions you didn't see in Halo, Halo 2, Halo 3, Halo 3 ODST. Halo Reach was the last Halo Bungie made. Bungie left the production and the rights to 343 Industries which made Halo 4. In this campaign you end up flying ships fighting in space driving warthogs and encountering the worst covenant vehicle of all you will not be happy to see it and it may also be the death of a Noble Team member. ONI is in trouble you go to their swordbase about 3 times in the campaign and you see Dr. Halsey and rescue her. You may have to carry an A.I. and deliver it to the Pillar of Autumn and keep it safe or it can be the death of the UNSC. Spartans were invented and invested by Dr. Halsey. She started to make Spartans to first fight the inzurrectionists not to fight the covenant but when the covenant came they prevailed and maybe they can save Reach. Halo Reach has a stunning campaign that all Halo fans will enjoy and can be a huge success for 343 and Bungie and hopefully give them ideas for Halo 4 and keep some stuff or get rid of them but lets hope they continue Halo.

Computer Stories by Luke Garthus

The time my computer froze

I was playing a game on my laptop when all of a sudden it just stopped. I asked my mom what happened, she said that it was frozen. So I put it by the fire. it still didn't work. A couple minutes later my mom caught me putting it in the microwave. "hmm" I wondered, maybe if I ask it nicely. "Computer, Can you please unfreeze?" Nothing. I took it outside and left it in the sun for ten minutes. I contemplated taking it apart with my tool set. But it looked way too complicated. Then my friend Brayden came over. I told him about my situation. He said "have you tried turning it off and back on? I stared at him blankly. "what?" I asked. He went over and pressed a button. The screen went black. "Ahh!" I cried. "you killed it!". Brayden looked at me quizzically and pressed the button again. the computer turned back on unfrozen. I happily resumed my computer games until Brayden said "ahem". I looked up. I decided to stop playing, I had had enough computer troubles anyway.

I try to find a computer.

This story is based on the time when my computer was tragically destroyed in a grape juice accident involving my little sister and I tried to find a new one before my parents got home

So I was looking for a new laptop when I saw a sign for a computer store: Super low prices! the sign exclaimed. So I went to the store. When I got inside I asked the clerk "Hi what's the price of your cheapest laptop?" "five hundred dollars Kid" he replied, "now go away!" he yelled my computer". I took it. It was the exact

"What!?!?" I exclaimed. "looks Like I'll have to find a computer somewhere else" I thought. Then I saw my grandpa. "Hey! Grandpa!" I called. I told him what had happened. He said Well You're in luck buddy, because i just happen to have a computer". "really grandpa?" I asked. "really" he said. he took me into his house and then to the back room. in there I saw the newest coolest laptop in the world. "whoa!" I cried. "this is awesome!" "Thanks Grandpa!" "Whoa now son!" he said, "that's my work computer, This is your computer" he blew the dust of an old box computer that must have been made in the 1800's. "does it have Internet games?" I asked hopefully. "no" grandpa said. "What about google?" I said. "Nope". I looked at the plug, it looked like it had been made on an alien planet. "Sorry Grandpa, but I can't take this" I said. and started the long walk home. As I walked in the door sulkily I said "sorry Em I couldnt find a com-whhhhaaaaaaa!?!?! Emma was playing on a computer even better than the one at grandpa's house. "Hi" she said, "while you were out going for a walk, I got the newest computer in the world. "but, How?" I asked. She shrugged, "my friends mom owns a computer factory" she replied. "Well now it's my turn" I said. "No way!" Emma exclaimed. We started fighting over who got the computer until Emma's elbow bumped her grape juice. "Uh Oh!" we exclaimed in unison as it spilled all over the laptop. "What do we do now?" I asked. Then there was a knock on the door. "Oh no!" Emma said "thats mom and dad" But when I opened the door, it was the computer store clerk. "hey kid" he said. "I'm sorry for yelling at you" "So here have mine" the laptop was a the same model of the first one we had had. "thanks man" I said. He smiled and walked away.

The End

Xbox 360 was made in 2005 by a company called Microsoft it was the next generation gamer system and xbox 360 was released in different configurations and different prices and a really cool thing about xbox 360 is you can play dvds on there but not blu ray

You can also go online on xbox you can play all over the world and a lot of people play xbox 360 it is rated 9.6 out of 10 and there are two types of online on is silver and one is gold silver you can add them and talk to them gold is where you can go in other peoples chats and play online with other people

You can also download demos and trailers for like movies and one thing a lot of people do have on their xbox 360 is netflix and you can also get a lot more stuff like free games you can download music from itunes on their xbox allows you to have an avatar where you can put clothes on him and put props on him

You can buy clothes for him or earn them through games your xbox also keeps track of all games you have and you can get achievements there is also a thing called gamer tag where you can give your avatar a nickname you can't have the same nickname as someone else so it wont let you or the live thing will be messed up so you have to make a name something else than other people .

There is a new xbox 360 called a slim a heat sensor where you need to just put you finger by it it will turn on and you can play this xbox came out in 2010 there is a 4GB and a 250GB hard disk the slim also lasts longer.

Xbox 360 is a really good game you should all check it out sometime hope you enjoyed this and xbox 360 is not hard to play 10 year olds could get this just need a easier game peace out gamers.

Dear Readers

My goal was to complete this magazine in a way for it to look like a professional and popular magazine and thanks to all of you I achieved this goal (I didn't actually). I wanted to make the articles of the magazine perfect, so I looked over every single article and made only minor changes. It was really hard putting the magazine together due to the people making the articles for me because they were taking forever on them but they were still pretty good. It was fun making other articles for other people because I like to make them happy and approve the article. An xbox article really stood out to me because it had good information on it and had a similar picture to a classic xbox controller. Thanks to all of the people that contributed to my magazine.

Sincerely,

Nolan Comparin
